

Farm Bureau Takes Stand on Taxes

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation adopted a resolution here Tuesday that said any new taxes that may be proposed during the next session of the legislature should be general taxes assessed to the general population.

The resolution said that any new taxation should be designed to apply to sources that now escape taxation or have never been taxed, such as exemptions to the sales tax enjoyed by utilities and certain services.

The bureau also recommended sales tax exemption for insecticides, herbicides, farm machinery and "other cost of production items used in farm production."

Also opposed was any guaranteed annual income welfare legislation.

Another resolution requested that federal and state income tax returns be simplified, possibly having state income taxes computed as a simple percentage of federal income taxes.

In another resolution, the bureau recommended support of a highway construction bond issue, "if it is supported by the administration and if it provides an equitable share of monies to the rural road program as determined by the Farm Bureau at the time the bond issue is proposed."

Gov.-elect Dale Bumpers has said he has not ruled out the possibility of proposing a $200 million bond issue for highway construction.

The federation also expressed concern with the "monopolistic power of labor unions and the resulting wage and price inflation."

The resolution urged support of legislation to preserve right-to-work laws, provide antitrust laws applicable to unions, prevent extension of the National Labor Relations Act to farm workers, prevent the use of secondary boycotts to disrupt marketing of farm products, and prevent any additional minimum wage coverage on farm labor.

The federation said it was concerned about "continuing annual deficits in the federal budget."

"Failure of government to discipline its spending inevitably results in inflation, balance of payments difficulties and demands for all kinds of regulations designed to counteract the forces unleashed by such procedures," the resolution said. "Fiscal responsibility is necessary."

The resolution also opposed a federal "value added" tax. The resolution said specific taxes, such as the retail sales tax, should be reserved to state and local governments.

In another resolution, the federation supported constitutional amendment guaranteeing states the right to apportion one house of bicameral legislatures on the basis of factors other than population, such as geography or political subdivision boundaries.

Other resolutions adopted by the federation included ones that:

—Opposed reversal of the nation's long-time policy of free-trade.

—Recommended the rice acreage allotment be restored to the 1969 level.

—Recommended a national cotton allotment, in acres, to be determined by the Agriculture Secretary.

—Recommended no acreage allotments on soybeans.

—Recommended quarterly quotas on red meat imports and that no more than 25 per cent of the quotas be allowed to enter United States markets in any quarter of the calendar year.

—Urged the 7 per cent investment credit on farm machinery be restored and urged continuation of 20 per cent first-year depreciation.

—Recommended that the federal use tax on trucks be levied quarterly as trucks are used.

—Opposed any change in the Electoral College except that two of the presidential electors from each state be elected on a statewide basis and the remainder elected from congressional districts.

—Opposed popular vote as the sole determinant in presidential elections.

—Asked that the legislature increase county turnback funds so progressive, long-range rural road programs can be maintained.

—Favored abolishment of state law requiring farm equipment dealers and farmers to have permits to haul farm equipment on state highways.

—Urged a review of teacher tenure regulations to "make it easier to discharge certain personnel." The resolution said students who abuse their privileges should not be allowed to remain on campuses.

—Supported the merger of the University of Arkansas and Arkansas A&M.

—Opposed science rivers bills that are detrimental to the interest of landowners as determined by the bureau's scenic river committee.

—Urged the Farm Bureau to support programs that encourage everyone to practice better pollution controls.

—Recommended the Farm Bureau work with proper agencies to establish guidelines for the use of pesticides and to establish tolerance levels in foods for the protection of consumers, producers and processors.

—Favored strengthening trespass laws by making it a misdemeanor to enter any fenced enclosure without the owner's permission.

—Opposed further federal or state legislation regulating the sale or use of firearms and ammunition, or their registration.

—Opposed abolishing capital punishment.

—Urged the courts and law enforcement officials to deal more firmly with persons engaged in distribution and sale of narcotics.

—Recommended expansion of the Family Practice Division of the State Medical Center.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nguyen Cao Ky says he proposed Vietnamization of the war five years ago because he feared "an oversized American troop commitment could harm the sense of nationhood of the Vietnamese and provoke strong adverse reactions in the American society."

The South Vietnamese vice president said he suggested near the end of 1965 "that we should immediately provide ways and means for the rapid expansion of the Vietnamese armed forces and assign to them the main combat tasks."

"My views did not prevail then but I think they were taken into account later, in 1969, when it was decided that the Vietnamese armed forces would go through a crash-expansion program to allow the redeployment of U.S. troops from Vietnam," Ky told the National Press Club Tuesday.

The Nixon administration, which began U.S. troop cutbacks in 1969, has claimed credit for Vietnamizing the war—gradually reducing the American role while raising the ability of South Vietnamese to defend themselves.

Ky spoke at the press club after meeting with President Nixon and Dr. Henry Kissinger, Nixon's top adviser on foreign affairs.

Ky said that by the end of 1971 the Vietnamese army, totaling 1.1 million, would be fourth largest in the world, the air force seventh largest and the navy 10th largest.

He predicted all U.S. ground combat forces would be out of the country by that time and the Vietnamese armed forces would be far too strong to be defeated by North Vietnam.

Ky, mentioned as a possible candidate for president next year, appeared anxious to correct his image in the United States.

He admitted U.S. public opinion holds him to be "colorful and often times anachronistic," but gave this assessment of himself:

"Although I do fly I have not very often thought of myself as a bird. If the term 'hawk' refers to people who prefer war to peace, I do not feel that I fit that definition."

But he added that so long as the Communists keep sending troops into South Vietnam to wage war, "I do not see how we could exercise our rights of self-defense as doves."

Ky, who was born in Son Tay, North Vietnam, where U.S. commandos raided an abandoned prisoner-of-war camp last Friday, volunteered to lead South Vietnamese and Americans the next time an effort is made to free prisoners.

Development Cool in Education

YOSEMITE, Calif. (AP) — here's a cool new development on the educational scene: instruction in igloo building.

It's aimed at persons, such as skiers, who might be trapped in the wilderness by sudden snowstorms and need a haven to keep from freezing.

The course in snow country survival techniques also includes instruction in contriving simpler shelters, such as snow mound houses, caves and tunnels.

"A snow house can be warm and cozy and there is no need for people to become ill from exposure if they are properly prepared for storm situations," says Wayne Merry, in charge of the program at Yosemite National Park.

"Such shelter can save lives in the event of a blizzard."

The course is offered by Yosemite's Mountaineering School and Guide Service. For $20 tuition, the adventurous get to go overnight snow camping on weekends—without tents.

Participants are taught how to carve igloo blocks from snow with a sharp stick, knife or saw. The blocks, at least four inches thick, are stacked firmly into a dome.

Then they make a mound house, a dome of snow tunneled into then hollowed out. Some settle for simply a tunnel or cave dug into a drift.

Whatever the design, all is comfy inside, says Merry, and living in a snow shelter on an

Understanding About Flight Very Vague

WASHINGTON (AP) — During the past two years the United States has made some 6,000 reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam under cover of an understanding so vague Washington and Hanoi apparently feel free to interpret it in contradictory ways.

The understanding was one of several developed by U.S. and North Vietnamese negotiators at Paris in late October 1968 leading to a halt of American bombing of North Vietnam.

The record suggests that while Hanoi knows what the understandings are, it has not agreed necessarily with Washington as to what they mean—at least on the bitterly disputed issue of reconnaissance missions.

changes.
But Fulbright said he didn't see how the two moves would help the administration's announced policy of seeking to settle the conflict through negotiation. He said the only ways to free U.S. prisoners were to invade North Vietnam or negotiate a settlement.

Committee members fought unsuccessfully to pin Laird down on the way the weekend actions would help bring peace in Vietnam.

The secretary repeatedly emphasized that the POW raid was a success in demonstrating U.S. concern for captured prisoners even though the prisoner camp was empty when the raiders got there.

The raid was undertaken, the secretary said, "to demonstrate to all of our citizens and to all the world that we have not forgotten our prisoners of war."

"I could not ignore the fact that our men were dying in captivity," Laird added.

"Was there any doubt that Americans did not care" about the prisoners? Fulbright asked at one point.

Fulbright said of the rescue attempt that "we are not questioning the heroism of the people involved, or your motives."

ALC School Distribution Plan Fails

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislative Council Tuesday failed to muster enough votes to adopt a report recommending that the legislature enact a 2 to 1 ratio method of distributing state aid to school districts for teacher salary increases.

The vote on the measure was 10-9, with 15 votes needed for adoption. The council will take up the matter again at a later meeting.

Under the recommendation, school districts with the lowest assessed valuations would receive twice the amount of state money for teacher salary increases as districts with the highest valuations.

A lay committee created by a legislative resolution in 1969 had recommended a 3 to 1 ratio, but a committee of the Legislative Council amended the recommendation.

Representatives of the Arkansas Municipal League told the council Tuesday that home-rule legislation would help solve the cities' financial problems, but that cities immediately need a large chunk of additional money from the state.

Jap Novelist Ends Life in Protest

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Yukio Mishima, the flamboyant Japanese novelist who ran an 80-man private army, committed suicide today to protest his country's no-war constitution.

After making an impassioned militaristic speech to 2,000 soldiers in a Japanese army camp, he plunged a samurai sword into his abdomen, then one of his young followers cut off his head.

Mishima climbed onto a roof at the Ichigaya military camp in downtown Tokyo and scattered handbills charging corruption and ineffectiveness in his nation's military forces.

"Long live the emperor!" he cried to officers and men in a courtyard below. Then he declared: "We will take our life to protest Japan's constitution, which prohibits Japan's rearmament."

After delivering his speech, the 45-year-old author barricaded himself and four followers in the office of Kentoshi Masuda, commanding general of the eastern division of Japan's army. As the stunned general looked on, Mishima seated himself and began the ancient Japanese harakiri rite.

He drew a long samurai sword, bared his abdomen and drew the sword across it, drawing blood. Then, as the blood flowed, he bowed his head and let Masukazu Morita, his 25-year-old protegee, plunge a shorter sword into his neck. Another aide cut off the writer's head with a third sword.

Morita then plunged a sword into his own abdomen and let one of his comrades decapitate him.

Mishima died in the uniform of his private right-wing army, the Tate no Kai, or Shield. He formed the organization two years ago, and Morita had been with him from the start.

The author and his four companions appeared to have planned their act long in advance. They posed in uniform a month ago for a formal photograph, a Japanese military custom often carried out before an undertaking that could end in death.

Prisoner Jailed on Furlough

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Roger L. Patterson, 28, serving a 10-year sentence for forgery at Tucker Intermediate Reformatory, was arrested here Tuesday and charged with driving while intoxicated, no driver's license and refusing to take an intoxication test.

Tucker Supt. Larry McGuire said Patterson was released from the prison at 2 p.m. Monday to look for a job on a work furlough. "I understand he didn't handle it to well," McGuire said.

Last month, McGuire said, Patterson appeared before the Pardons and Paoles Board and receive a favorable recommendation for executive clemency.

the cities were "financially sick," had stretched each city dollar "to the point it is just about to break," and had exhausted all sources of new revenue.

White made the comments as league representatives went before the council to ask for an increase of 8 per cent in the amount of general revenues turned back to the cities. They now get 2 per cent, or about $5 million in the current fiscal year. The request is for $25 million in the next fiscal year and $28 million the following year.

Mayor Tom Little of Blytheville said the cities "are going to deteriorate to the point I don't think you can live in them" if no more revenue is forthcoming.

White said Arkansas cities were 50th in the nation in their per capita income. They would have to double their income to match the per capita earnings of the 49th state in this category, West Virginia, he said.

Aide Told to Keep Quiet or Be Fired

By H.L. SCHWARTZ III

WASHINGTON (AP) — A democratic senator says the administration threatened to fire one of its top hunger experts if he didn't keep quiet about the findings of a 10-state malnutrition survey.

Sen. Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina told the Senate Tuesday the threat was made to Dr. Arnold Schaefer, a Public Health Service official who is director of a national nutrition survey ordered by Congress in 1967.

Schaefer, in a telephone interview, said "some of that is true and some of it is not."

But, he said, an administration decision to transfer his office to Atlanta, Ga., will "virtually negate our work. We won't be able to finish."

It doesn't take any genius to realize a good share of our people won't move," Schaefer said. He added that he won't transfer either, and after 20 years with the PHS will accept voluntary retirement.

Schaefer said he is discouraged with the administration's performance involving hunger, and commented: "I can't see any reason to keep dawdling away on those things."

In his speech, Hollings referred to Schaefer as one of the leading hunger fighters, who "has been threatened with dismissal if he continues his investigations."

Hollings said Schaefer was prepared last spring to testify before the Senate Select Committee on Hunger and Malnutrition about his findings in several states, but was told to limit his remarks to Texas and Louisiana and to say the findings there were inconclusive.

Pollution Test for Spa Water, Waste

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A young pollution scientist who majored in chemical engineering is set up in a traveling lab with $20,000 worth of equipment to test Hot Springs' water and waste before and after it enters the city's three sewage plants.

Tom Hernandez is conducting part of what is an over-all study of the existing sewer system by Albert Switzer and Associates Engineers to determine what must be done to comply with the wishes of the Arkansas Pollution Control Commission. The commission charged March 27 that Hot Springs was polluting the waters of Hot Springs Creek, Gulpha Creek, Stokes Creek, Lake Hamilton and Lake Catherine, and ordered that remedial work be done to the city's sewage system.

Hernandez is working eight to 10 hours a day, seven days a week, gathering sewer samples at the city's three plants, and running tests on the samples. Some tests require five days from start to finish.

The eight tests he runs daily are chemical oxygen (COD), biochemical oxygen demands (BOD), suspended solids, volatile suspended solids, temperature, dissolved oxygen age of hydrogen (PH) and acidity-alkalinity. These tests are run at influent and effluent.

Electronic methods are used to run the tests because they are more accurate than a site test, where a solution is added to a sample to be compared with a standard.

Dick Van Dyke Turns Desert Rat

By JOAN CROSBY

LOS ANGELES—(NEA)—It's not that Dick Van Dyke is growing a beard. That curly, silvery growth on the lower end of his face is the result of not shaving.

He looks very distinguished, but says, "Most people think I look like Gabby Hayes. I've decided there is an old man inside of me, trying to get out."

Dick's not shaving is the result of his new life, that of a rancher in Cave Creek, Ariz., some 45 miles north of Phoenix. He and his family have lived there for more than a year and they love it. "I can sit and look at the desert and in five minutes, forget what was bothering me," he says.

Dick had owned the desert property for some time and he and his wife, Marge, and the kids had gone there for weekends. "But we missed it so much when we weren't there that we just threw up our hands one day and moved to Arizona permanently. Sergio Mendez bought our house, our linens, our china, our harpischord, our furniture and even our dog. We just packed our suitcases and went."

When Dick (beardless) returns to TV on CBS-TV next season, he won't return to Los Angeles. Los Angeles will move to him. His series, as yet unnamed (manager Byron Paul wants it to be called just Dick Van Dyke, which makes sense), will be filmed in Carefree, Ariz. (8 miles as the buzzard flies from his home), using the three-camera technique, before a live audience. "We'll probably have to bus the audience from Phoenix," Dick laughs.

Meanwhile, he has a special set for NBC-TV on Dec. 6, Dick Van Dyke Meets Bill Cosby. He returns the favor by visiting Cosby's show, where he plays a drunken, has-been magician. He'll also be seen in another special, The First Nine Months Are the Hardest (that's set for February). Then in December he once again leaves the desert and shaves to come to Los Angeles and do another special, Robert Young and the Family. "I got to work with Lee Grant and that's why I'm doing it," he says.

Lee is one of the actresses who was considered to play Dick's wife in his new series. But because it will require that the actress live in Arizona at least part of the time, Lee couldn't do it. It would have meant taking her daughter out of school.

"It's amazing how many other actresses just don't want to live in the desert," Dick says. "Most of our production crew will be commuting from Los Angeles. I have an idea, though, that after they spend some time in the desert, it will get them. I think more and more production is going to Arizona anyway."

On his series, Dick will play a local celebrity, a talk show host. "It's the private life of David Frost," he says. "Maybe we had better make that Dick Cavett. He'll have a college-age boy and a little girl who may turn out to be a little boy, we're not sure yet."

For the first time in TV history, an entire season's episodes will be finished before the series is on the air. Because summers are too hot in Arizona, they will

THE TOPIC THAT WON'T DIE: WOMEN

Dear Helen: Why do so many women on TV talk shows or in magazine articles still take such pleasure in downing their own sex? It's as if they feel they're improving their own image by identifying with men. Don't they realize that their jolly little remarks such as "I'd much rather be with men, I'm a man's woman," show not only contempt for their own sex but contempt for themselves?

As a woman who very much enjoys being with other women, singly or in groups (and I'm not strange—I'm a happily married mother) I can only feel that females who find other females dull and uninteresting must be the same, unless there is a man around to spark interest.

To me, this is the real meaning of liberation: A liberation from the idea that the male ego must be constantly bolstered, even at the expense of your own sex and yourself; from the idea that a woman is only half a person without a man and family, whereas a man is encouraged and expected to be whole, independent and productive, with or without women...except, of course, physically.

Liberation means to me that both parties are complete persons before and after marriage. Let's get away from this "who's going to hold the door open or buy dinner" bit, and back to the most important issue—which is improving woman's image of herself. — L.B.

Dear L:

Right on! — H.

Dear Helen:

My sister-in-law delights in tearing people apart. Each time she sees our two teen-agers she points out all their defects. "You're breaking out again—no wonder, look at the junk you eat." "Your teeth are getting crooked." She considers all young people hoods or dopes and says so, constantly.

You might say "avoid her," but that isn't easy when we all live on the same property. Several brothers and sisters share a piece of inherited land, and we have a house trailer on it. This woman tries to boss us all, as if we were hired help instead of joint owners who share the taxes and upkeep. I've never talked back to her, even though she has told my husband (her brother) that I'm not the right wife for him. She forgets she introduced us.

Now she's after our children because they don't visit her more. Why should they when all they get is criticism? She says they're anti-social, and points out how other kids their age are out dancing, etc. They aren't town-painters, but they seem happy—and, if they're a little shy, perhaps it's because of their aunt's downgrading!

How would you face this situation, Helen? — MRS. M.

Dear Mrs. M: ...With a property-sale and a move to a happier environment. This family commune is not for you; the sooner you leave, the better! — H.

Wasn't it you who wondered how to bake layer cakes high and flat, so they'd stack without breaking apart? Well my bakery man gave me the secret: Wet a strip of terry cloth or old towel, wrap it around the side of the pan, pin it in place and bake. The moisture keeps the edges of the cake from baking faster than the inside, thus the cake rises as high on the sides as it does in the middle. And no, the cloth doesn't burn—though it browns a bit. — SACTO COOK

Dear Cook: My Thanksgiving cake will be more manageable, thanks to you! — H.

Alexander Voted for Trade Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., said today that he voted for the Trade Act of 1970, which placed import quotas on textile, footwear, milk and electronic products, in an effort to encourage foreign nations to "treat our industries with a greater degree of fairness."

Alexander said the import quota movement began as kind of a bluff in hopes that Japan and the European Common Market countries would be encouraged to act voluntarily.

"Many promises were made but no action was taken," he said. "Therefore, it was necessary for Congress to take appropriate action."

The bill passed the House last week and is now before the Senate.

Alexander recalled the United States' efforts to rebuild Europe and Japan after World War II and said the time had come for "the countries we have aided to cooperate with the United States in dealing with the problems which have developed in our economy."

He said voluntary import quota agreements reach after passage of the Trade Act would supersede the terms of the act.

cooks in minutes on paper, glass, or plastic ware and nothing gets hot but the food.

Miss Doyle also explained the features and costs of electric dishwashers; food waste disposers; conventional, automatic defrost, and frost-free refrigerator-freezers; and the new trash compactor which will compact up to a week's worth of trash in a neat little bag.

Attending the demonstrations were Mrs. Helen Clark's Family Living classes from Hope High School, Mrs. Betty Brantley's Homemaking classes from Emmet High School, and Mrs. Lloyd Smittle's Homemaking classes from Laneburg High School.

The girls enjoyed Cokes supplied by Collier's and snacks prepared in the microwave oven.

Bobcats Lose But Senior Girls Win

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

In the first of two games last night, the Hope Ladycats outscored the defending champion Ashdown Pantherettes, 43-41, in one of the most thrilling games in a long time.

Coach Charlotte Gibson's squad starts off with a 1-0 record and will win many more. Hope was plagued by foul trouble and turnovers throughout the game, but still kept fighting.

Cynthia Clay started the Pantherette scoring with a basket, but the Ladycats came right back to take a 4-2 lead on points by Janet McCain and Betty Rodden. Ashdown regained the lead and added on points, but Dee Singleton hit the net three times to keep Hope close at the end of the first period, 12-11.

Hope regained the lead early in the second quarter momentarily, 14-13, but repeated foul trouble alone, in a three minute span, lifted Ashdown score six points as they took a 26-21 halftime lead. Points by Singleton, McCain, and Belinda East kept the Ladycats close.

Recharged and ready to play, the Ladycats came out in the second half and began to challenge for the lead.

Clay hit the opining points of the second half for Ashdown, but the Ladycats responded with three straight field goals to chop Ashdown's lead to 28-27, with 2:50 left in the third frame.

With 2:24 to go, Hope tied the score at 29 all on Singleton's sixth field goal and seconds later, after Rodden hit a free throw, led 30-29. However, field goals by Clay left the Ladycats trailing, 33-32, moving into the final period of play.

After the tipoff for the final quarter both teams traded points and with a little over six minutes to go, the Ladycats got the ball. At that point Singleton hit a layup for a 35-36 Hope lead, that was never relinquished afterwards.

Goals by Singleton and Rodden kept the Ladycats from losing their lead until the finish.

Singleton led the Hope scorers with 18 points, followed by Rodden with 11, McCain netting nine, and East hitting five, while Clay scored 23 for Ashdown.

Moving to the second game, the action saw the Bobcats drop an 80-69 decision to the larger Ashdown Panthers to fix their record at 0-1.

The Bobcats started out quickly with a 4-1 lead on two goals by John Dudley, but after that, fell behind, never to regain the lead, although always staying fairly close.

Dudley and David Briggs kept the Bobcats close with field goals and free throws. Parker Powell's free shot with four seconds on the clock left Hope trailing Ashdown, 24-18, moving into the second quarter.

Into the second period now, the Bobcats hit a five minute scoring drought while Ashdown's Donnie Mills and David Pickett kept the Panthers score climbing. Norton, Powell, and Dudley hit the goal for 10 points in the last two minutes to trim the lead at halftime, 47-35, Ashdown leading.

Coming out in the second half both teams had their key players in a little foul trouble with two quarters to pay. Down by 11 points the Bobcats started fighting back.

Norton opened the third quarter with a free throw and seconds later hit a two pointer. Charles Ratliff did the same and Hope trailed now by six, 47-39.

Ratliff and Bill Rowland kept the Cats at the same pace as Ashdown for a few minutes, matching point for point. However with 1:50 to play in the third frame, Pickett and Mills lifted Ashdown to a 12 point lead, 59-47.

Rowland hit two quick goals with less than a minute to match the Ashdown scoring and seconds later the game moved into the final quarter with Hope trailing, 63-51.

Both teams played on even terms the last quarter. Dudley, Norton, Briggs, Powell, and

Notre Dame, LSU, Auburn Selected

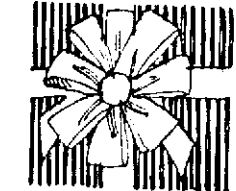

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Although many college football teams have packed it in for 1970, the season isn't over yet, not with bowl bids, conference championships and, above all, the national championship still on the line.

Texas, Ohio State, Nebraska and Notre Dame—all unbeaten, with Nebraska showing one tie—are battling for No. 1 and all still have games to play. So do Arkansas, Tennessee, Louisiana State, Arizona State and Mississippi, the 5-6-7-9-10 teams in The Associated Press rankings. Only eighth-rated Michigan is through for the year.

Texas has games with Texas A&M and Arkansas and if the top-rated Longhorns win both they'll face Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl, ostensibly with the national crown at stake. Louisiana State must beat Tulane and Mississippi to nail down an Orange Bowl berth against Nebraska. Waiting for Texas to slip is Ohio State, which takes on Stanford and Heisman Trophy winner Jim Plunkett in the Rose Bowl.

Nov. 26
Houston at Florida State—Houston's offense hasn't really exploded since the opener and the Seminoles are shooting for a bowl. Florida State.
Villanova at Temple—Army-Navy comes up on Saturday but this may be the best game in Philadelphia this week. Villanova.

NOV. 28
Notre Dame at Southern California—Two tremendous running attacks, but the Irish are shooting for No. 1 and Joe Theismann would like to show up the Heisman voters. Trojans were looking past UCLA and got bombed. Notre Dame.
Alabama vs. Auburn at Birmingham—Both teams are bowl-bound. Auburn ranks first nationally in passing and might be expected to be looking ahead to Ole Miss in the Gator Bowl. If you think that's the case, you don't know this series. Pat Sullivan and ... Auburn.
Georgia Tech at Georgia—Tech's in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl and a victory puts Georgia in the Peach Bowl. With two weeks to recover from the Notre Dame heart-breaker ... Georgia Tech.
Louisiana State at Tulane—Green Wave primed for an upset but Tigers can taste those oranges. LSU.
Army vs. Navy at Philadelphia—Combined records are 2-17-1 but game will attract usual 100,000 anyway. Having found a quarterback in Dick Atha ... Army.
Steve Harris, all got in on the scoring.
Both Hope senior teams will now host Nashville Friday in Jones Field House and Prescott the following week.
Dudley led the scoring with 24 points, Norton had 14, Powell and Briggs each had nine, Rowland had eight, Ratliff sunk nine, and Harris hit two. David Pickett had 20 for Ashdown with Donnie Mills netting 18.

Bumpas SWC Player of the Week

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —Arkansas defensive tackle Dick Bumpas decided last spring to become a more reckless football player.

Texas Tech Coach Jim Carlen says Bumpas has succeeded.

Bumpas, a 6-foot-3, 218-pound senior, was credited with 10 tackles, three assists and forced an interception with a heavy pass rush as the Razorbacks whipped Tech 24-10 last Saturday. For his performance, Bumpas was named The Associated Press' Defensive Player of the Week in the Southwest Conference.

SMU's Gary Hammond was named Offensive Player of the Week in the conference for his performance in the Mustang's 23-10 victory over Baylor.

"If that guy isn't an All-American I never saw one," said Carlen, after a first-hand look at Bumpas. "They told us we would have to stop Bumpas, but they forgot to tell us how. Once we had a 250-pounder blocking him and he (Bumpas) just slapped him aside. We tried double-teaming him once, but that didn't work either."

"Before spring practice begins we analyze our kids and figure out their weaknesses," said Charley Coffey, who coaches Arkansas' defensive front four. "Bumpas knew and we all knew his weakness was a lack of recklessness."

"Last spring, he said he was going to correct this," Coffey said. "He got the toughest summer job he could find. He ran a jackhammer all summer and said he worked out every day. . . and I'm sure he did. He's always been a good technique man."

Bumpas says he is much stronger than he used to be. "Used to, I would just more or less wait for things to happen," he said. "Now I am able to take on a blocker and go somewhere."

Both Coffey and Bumpas said defensive end Bruce James should share in Bumpas' honor.

"James forced the big play for Bumpas," Coffey said. "They were watching the films the other day and kidding each other. Bruce told him that he did the work and that Bumpas got the gravy."

Bumpas dropped Tech quarterback Charles Napper for losses on three pass plays.

"Bruce did an outstanding job of containing outside," Bumpas said. "If the outside man doesn't get there or runs past him then the quarterback can hit the scramble hole."

Coffey, who has coached two Outland Trophy winners, says he has never had two youngsters play as well as Bumpas and James have. "They've had the big games time and time again."

Bumpas broke his thumb a week after the Oct. 3 victory over TCU. He sprained one ankle in the second quarter of the Rice game on Nov. 7 and sprained the other ankle in the third quarter of the same game.

Bumpas, however, never missed a practice.

"He hasn't missed a practice or a game yet and he's determined to go through his career without missing one," Coffey said.

Blues Doing Better Than in Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If the St. Louis Blues had played as well against Boston in the National Hockey League playoffs last spring as they have in the regular season this fall, the Bruins might not have swept to the Stanley Cup.

St. Louis came from behind Tuesday night to earn a 5-5 tie against the Bruins on Tim Eccelstone's goal with 48 seconds left to play. It was the second meeting of the two clubs this season.

In the first, the Blues, swept out of the Cup finals in four straight games by the Bruins last year, whipped Boston 2-1. That's three points out of a possible four for the Blues against the Bruins so far this season.

In Tuesday's other NHL games, Toronto rallied for a 4-4 tie against Pittsburgh and Vancouver edged Minnesota 3-2.

Eccelstone's tying goal came after St. Louis had lifted netminder Ernie Wakely for an extra attacker with 70 seconds remaining.

Dicus, McClard on Kodak All-America

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Arkansas Razorback players have been named to the 24-man Kodak All-America team selected by the American Football Coaches' Association Tuesday.

Named were flanker Chuck Dicus and placement kicker Bill McClard, who set an NCAA field-goal record of 60 yards this season.

Dicus has been a standout performer for the Razorbacks for three years.

The only other Southwest Conference players to make the team were from Texas — fullback Steve Worster, tackle Bobby Wuensch and defensive end Bill Atessis.

Plunkett Is Heisman Trophy Pick

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Plunkett came to town for a television appearance and left with the Heisman Trophy.

Next in line for the Stanford quarterback, college football's all-time total offense and passing leader, is a New Year's Day date with Ohio State in the Rose Bowl and, following that, a business session with whichever pro team drafts him.

"I don't have an agent," Plunkett said, "but I guess I'll have to get one. I haven't put any kind of price tag on myself, but I hope the Heisman Trophy helps."

The 6-foot-3, 204-pounder from San Jose, Calif., said he'd prefer to play with the home town San Francisco 49ers "but it doesn't look too hopeful" since the 49ers don't figure to get a top draft pick.

Actually, Plunkett was in New York for an ABC-TV filming of an All-America team to be shown Saturday night. When he heard that he had won the Heisman, he headed from the ABC studios in midtown to the Downtown Athletic Club on the lower tip of Manhattan.

The Downtown A.C. awards the Heisman Trophy annually to "the outstanding college football player" in the country. Plunkett won with 510 first-place votes and 2,229 points to 242 and 1,410 for Notre Dame's quarterback, Joe Theismann.

"I was really caught by surprise," Plunkett said, showing the bewilderment of suddenly having to face an unexpected battery of newsmen, microphones and lights. "I didn't think the winner would be announced until Dec. 3." That's the date of the annual Heisman awards dinner at which Plunkett will formally receive the trophy.

Plunkett led Stanford to an 8-3 regular season record and the championship of the Pacific-8 Conference. En route, he completed 191 of 358 passes for 2,715 yards and 18 touchdowns. His career totals were 530 of 962 for 7,544 yards and 52 touchdowns. He accumulated 7,887 yards in total offense.

The losses to Air Force and California in the final two games were disappointing to Plunkett but he "kind of likes the role of underdog against Ohio State. I don't know what went wrong. I guess we had a mental letdown or something after getting into the Rose Bowl. I know those two games didn't help my Heisman chances at all."

Rounding out the top 10 in the voting by 1,959 electors across the country were Archie Manning, Mississippi quarterback; Steve Worster, Texas fullback; Rex Kern, Ohio State quarterback; Pat Sullivan, Auburn quarterback; Jack Tatum, Ohio State corner back; Ernie Jennings, Air Force flanker; Don McCauley, North Carolina halfback, and Lynn Dickey, Kansas State quarterback.

Accusations Hurlled at A. Brundage

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the International Olympic Committee, was accused today of persecuting skiing in general and Alpine skiing in particular.

Sigge Bergman, secretary-general of the International Ski Federation, (FIS) made the comment in the wake of the disclosure Tuesday that Brundage had written the FIS demanding an explanation of reports that nine Alpine ski stars were paid $50 a day plus living and travel expenses at a training camp in Mammouth Mountain, Calif.

An IOC spokesman said if the reports are confirmed the nine will be banned from the 1972 Winter Olympic Games at Sapporo, Japan.

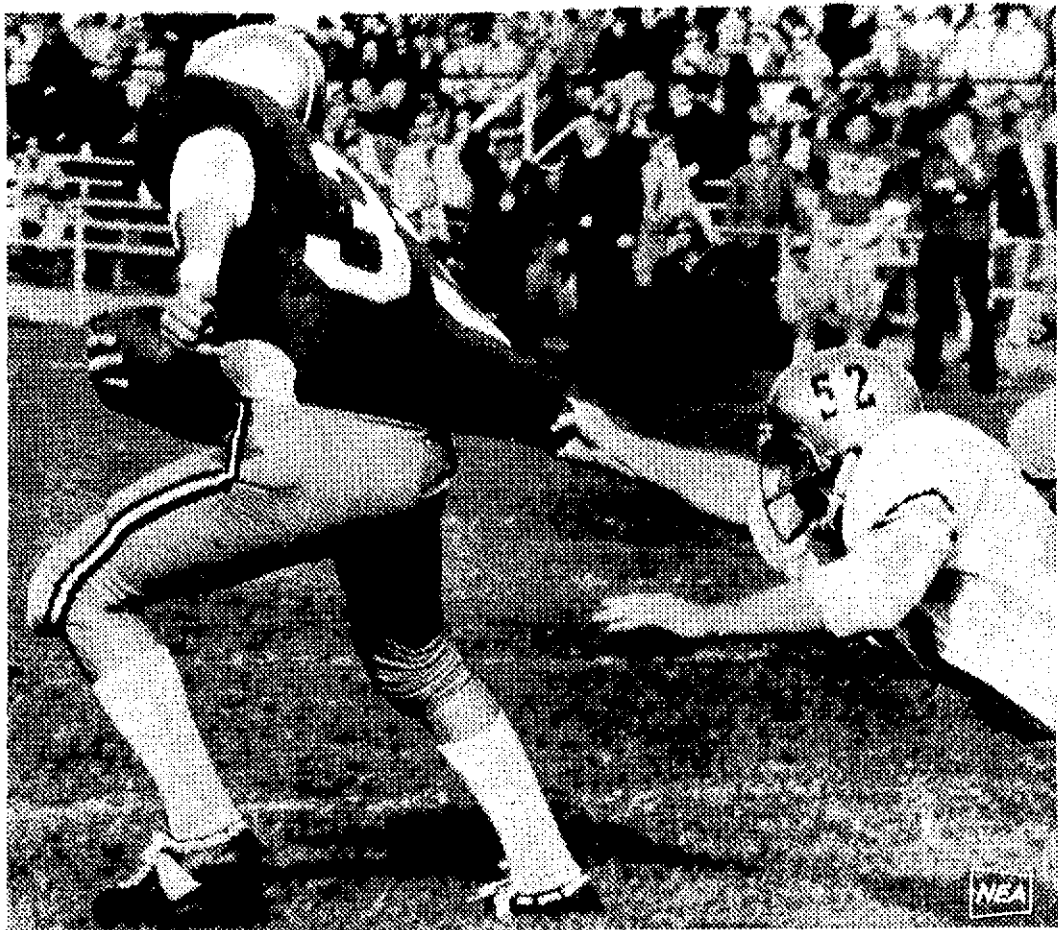

"This is a new dispiriting chapter in his (Brundage's) prestige struggle in which he does everything to preserve Olympic rules which have been out of date for long," Bergman said in Stockholm.

"I am asking myself the question whether there will be any Winter Games in 1972. Not even the Japanese are sure about it."

In Paris, Maurice Martel, president of the French Ski Federation, said the FIS should withdraw from the Olympic movement.

Martel said that an agreement was signed in 1951 between the FIS and the IOC permitting competitive skiers to give instruction for pay if they withdrew from such activity six months before the start of the racing season.

"Mr. Brudage hates Alpine skiing," Martel said. "Personally I think the joke has gone far enough and that the International Ski Federation should now withdraw from the International Olympic Committee. I am going to write to this effect to Mr. Hodler."

Porkers Sixth in Nation on Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — The Arkansas offense ranks sixth in the nation in total offense in weekly figures released Tuesday by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The Razorbacks have gained 4,399 yards on 804 plays in 10 games, an average of 439.9 yards per game.

Texas ranks fifth in statistics, averaging 445.1 yards per game. The Longhorns have gained 3,561 yards on 650 plays in eight games.

The top-ranked Texas team also leads the nation in rushing offense with 2,895 yards on 551 plays in eight games, which is 361.9 yards per game.

The Catawba, N.C., driver exceeded the previous record of 200.447 on four of his 24 laps but had the fastest time on the 22nd lap.

Maravich Stars But Team Is Defeated

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The rich get richer and the poor get mangled in the National Basketball Association.

Three of the four divisional leaders—New York, Baltimore and Milwaukee—increased or maintained their margins over the rest of the packs Tuesday night. What kept it from being a sweep was the fact that Los Angeles, front-runner in the Pacific Division, was idle.

The New York Knicks withstood a pro career-high 40 points by Atlanta's million-dollar rookie, Pete Maravich, and turned back the Hawks 128-119.

Baltimore's Bullets equalled a team scoring record by crushing Portland 156-104 and Lew Alcindor canned 37 points as Milwaukee's rampaging Bucks bounced Chicago 117-108 for their 15th successive victory.

In other NBA games, Detroit whipped San Diego 111-104, San Francisco clipped Philadelphia 104-96 and Buffalo flipped Phoenix 112-106.

In the American Basketball Association, Pittsburgh topped Texas 123-120 and Utah belted Denver 115-102.

Maravich wowed the New York fans with a second-half shooting and passing exhibition that brought the Hawks back from a 19-point deficit to within six of the Knicks before time ran out on Atlanta.

Walt Frazier canned 10 of 13 first half baskets for 23 of his 33 points that gave the Knicks their commanding lead.

In Baltimore it was all over by halftime when the Bullets led 84-50. Eight Baltimore players hit in double figures with Jack Marin's 25 points leading the way.

Oscar Robertson was the Bucks' sparkplug, hitting three baskets in 75 seconds as Milwaukee outscored the Bulls 11-0 early in the fourth period to overtake Chicago.

Detroit used the same method to stop San Diego, outscoring the Rockets 10-2 late in the game with Dave Bing topping the victorious Pistons with 35

Lamonica Is No. 1 Man Statistically

NEW YORK (AP) — Oakland's No. 1 hero for the last several National Football League weeks has been George Blanda, the 43-year-old quarterback.

But statistically speaking, the Raiders' No. 1 man and, in fact, the No. 1 quarterback in the NFL's American Conference is Daryle Lamonica.

Figures released today showed Lamonica with 17 touchdown passes and 1,922 yards gained through the air—both league leading figures. Lamonica also has a 53.7 completion percentage on 139 completions in 259 attempts.

A converted quarterback, Buffalo's Marlin Briscoe, is the AFC's top receiver with 42 catches for 789 yards and seven TDs.

Gene Stallings to Remain as A&M Coach

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., (AP) — Texas A&M's new president Jack K. Williams announced Tuesday that head football coach and athletic director Gene Stallings will be back next year.

Williams said, "I hope my statement will bring the rumor-wagon to a halt."

He added "We are disappointed that the season's wordless record is not better and we confidently expect it to improve. All concerned are committed to that goal and working toward it."

Williams said "The tremendous men who play football at Texas A&M need to know that all Aggies and friends of Aggies everywhere are behind them. And my statement is for that purpose."

The Aggies are 2-8 for the year with six consecutive losses. They meet No. 1 ranked Texas Thanksgiving Day in Austin.

Stallings, who led the Aggies to a SWC title in 1967, has been under fire from some of the alumni because he hasn't had a winning season since then.

Stallings served seven years as an assistant under Bear Bryant at Alabama after playing end under Bryant for the Aggies at A&M.

McCauley Sets Mark But Not the Record

NEW YORK (AP) — North Carolina's Don McCauley finished the season with a major-college football season rushing record but the rushing championship belongs to Cornell junior Ed Marinaro.

McCauley romped to 279 yards—and five touchdowns—in a 59-34 victory over Duke last Saturday to finish with 1,720 yards and break the record of 1,709 set by O. J. Simpson in 1968. However McCauley played in 11 games, one more than Simpson.

Marinaro won the rushing championship with an average of 158.3 yards a game with a total of 1,425 yards in nine games. McCauley had a 156.4 average.

Officially Marinaro has not clinched the title yet. But Fred Willis of Boston College would need 515 yards and Cincinnati's Steve Cowan 588 in their final games to take the title. All the other top rushers have finished their season.

Redskins Do Very Well Offensively

NEW YORK (AP) — If offensive statistics counted in the National Football League standings, the Washington Redskins would be first instead of fourth in the National Football Conference's East Division.

Figures released by the NFL today show the Redskins with the NFC's leading rusher, No. 2 passer and No. 2 pass receiver — by far the best team performance in individual offensive stats.

Washington's Larry Brown paces the rushers with 857 yards gained in 179 carries for a 4.8 average.

Sonny Jurgensen of the Skins is the NFL's No. 2 passer with 151 completions in 254 attempts and 1,734 yards gained as well as a league-leading 17 TD passes. The No. 1 passer is John Brodie of San Francisco with a 60.6 completion percentage on 163-for 269 for a league-leading 2,115 yards and 16 TDs, Chicago's Dick Gordon overtook Washington's Charley Taylor in pass receptions to take the lead

The beginner and the expert have one thing in common. They both tend to make unusual plays. The beginner makes his because he doesn't know any better, the expert because he has some sound reason.

East was tempted to go to five spades over North's five-heart bid. He wasn't vulnerable and five spades wouldn't be hurt. On the other hand, East didn't expect to make five spades and he felt there was some chance to defeat five hearts. He was looking at two aces and two aces usually represent two defensive tricks.

Further more, West was Lou Mathe. Lou is one of the great players and East wanted to leave the final decision about a five-spade call to his partner.

Mathe knew that five spades wouldn't make. He also knew that his hand did not represent any defensive tricks at all against his opponents, but he decided to gamble that the five-heart contract could be beaten.

Lou led the king of spades. This lead is against all standard practice. You are supposed to lead fourth best from a suit headed by king-thing. Of course, Lou knew that, but he also knew that it might be important to be able to lead to the second trick from his own hand. Hence, he played the king of spades, looked over dummy, and shifted to the 10 of clubs. This gave East two club tricks and North and South headaches.

CARD Sense

The bidding has been:
West North East South
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12
You, South, hold:
AK876 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12
What do you do now?
A—Just bid four spades. Slam is very unlikely. If you feel that you must try for a slam, bid four diamonds.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding three spades your partner has bid one no-trump after West passes. What do you do now?

More Harm than Good In Chemical Laxatives

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Most people eat less in adult life, particularly with advancing years and decreased physical activity. The decrease in bulk and the inactivity leads to less frequent bowel movements in some cases.

The sense of satisfaction stemming from a loved parent's reward of praise for the child's good performance is lost, resulting in a sense of dissatisfaction. It is then that preoccupation with the bowels, the laxatives and the enemas often begins.

The chemical laxatives often cause more harm than good. They irritate the small intestine and cause undigested food to be dumped into the colon. Here the food decomposes, liberating excessive amounts of gas and foul odors. This contributes to distention and general ill feeling. The colon responds by slowing down the movement of the undigested food, by contracting and compressing the material.

Soon the colon has areas of "spasm" and above the "spasm" areas distended with the excess gas. Pain results from the overdistended colon and the spasm. Water is extracted from the delayed stool, causing small, dry, hard stool products. The increased contraction and activity of the colon causes more mucus to be formed from the glands in the wall of the large intestine. The results are stools of small hard material, interspersed with mucus, fluid and a great deal of gas.

Many individuals continue to take laxatives because of the small hard stools. If they stop the laxative, the hard pressed small intestine slows down. There is little or no undigested food propelled into the colon. Of course, this delays the stool and the desired daily bowel movement does not occur. This serves to confirm the patient's opinion that a laxative is necessary for a "normal" daily bowel movement. The victim is now fully hooked on the laxative habit. The small intestine and the colon are continually irritated. The stools remain abnormal, the gas and pain persist.

Some laxatives simply add bulk to the stool. These contain agar, a gelatinous material that expands by absorbing water. This is less harmful but unnecessary if one is eating a proper diet.

Enemas are not quite as bad as chemical laxatives. They don't irritate the small intestine and therefore don't cause the problems resulting from propelling undigested food into the colon. For the most part they act by increasing the volume in the rectum and through this means stimulating a bowel movement. Premature emptying of the colon, however, causes one to miss the next day's bowel movement. The result is danger of being hooked on a daily enema ritual.

Pope to Stop Off at East Pakistan

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI will interrupt his flight to Manila Friday for a one-hour visit to East Pakistan to express his sympathy for the victims of the storm disaster 11 days ago, the Vatican announced today.

The announcement said the pontiff would spend an hour in Dacca, the capital of East Pakistan. It is 100 miles north of the Ganges delta area where hundreds of thousands died in the winds and floods and some two million survivors are homeless and desperately in need of food and clothing.

The Pope will arrive in Dacca at 1:15 a.m. local time Friday and take off again at 2:15.

The bridge player who takes action on every hand is an exciting partner, but not the sort we want when the chips are down. A winning player must learn to pass and take the worst of it on occasion.

West was one of those exciting players. He held five points opposite an opening no-trump and was not going to let that of devil South preempt him out of his profit.

His double of three clubs rang out like a clarion. North and East passed happily. North because he had some apparent support for his partner; East because he had a maximum no-trump with two aces and two kings.

South passed because he had no place to go. West had a problem about his lead and he solved it as poorly as possible. He led the deuce of spades! South wasted no time making his doubled contract. He discarded a diamond on dummy's ace of spades, led a club and hopped up with the king when East played low. Then he played a second club and relaxed. East cashed two diamonds right away and West did make his queen of clubs, but South had been doubled into game.

West claimed his double wasn't really bad. He pointed out that, if he had opened a diamond, South would have gone down one trick, but East was unimpressed. He stated there was no law that compelled West to enunciate any word but "Pass" with his one queen and three jacks and we are in full accord.

Thanksgiving services will be held at Bethel A. M. E. Church tonight at 6:30. The public is invited to attend. Dr. W. G. Wynn, pastor.

The choir of Emerson will sing at Bethel A. M. E. Church Sunday night, November 29th. The public is invited to attend.

12th DISTRICT PLANNING COUNCIL HELD

The 12th Episcopal District Planning Council of the African Methodist Episcopal Church was held at Bethel A. M. E. Church, Little Rock, Arkansas Tuesday, November 24th.

The council opened with a worship service, in which the choirs of Bethel, and Shorter College, North Little Rock, participated. The sermon was preached by Dr. H. H. Brookins, pastor of First A. M. E. Church, Los Angeles, California. Dr. Brookins will host the Quadrennial Session of the Woman's Missionary Department which will be held in Los Angeles July 16-24, 1971.

During the business session which began at 3:00 p.m. and went into the evening, the Rt. Rev. D. Ward Nichols, Presiding Bishop of the 12th Episcopal District, with the Presiding Elders, Pastors, Conference Officers, and Missionary Women, planned the program for the 1970-71 conference year.

Dates for regular meetings of the various departments of the church, were set, even to the Annual Conferences. Among these were: The Homecoming at Shorter College December 12, 1970, at which time a 1971 Maverick will be given to the person holding the lucky ticket.

(By the way, I have tickets for this car, and will be happy to sell one to anyone wishing to purchase them. The tickets are $2.00. Just think, you might win a car for $2.00, and you will be making a contribution to Shorter College.)

Rev. H. H. Scott, former pastor of Bethel A. M. E. Church, Gurdon, Arkansas, was appointed Presiding Elder of the Prescott District.

The Prescott District Laymen's organization will meet at Bethel A. M. E. Church, Gurdon, Arkansas Sunday, November 29th, at 3:00 p.m. Miss Ida D. Upchurch, President.

Anyone with recurrent or persistent diarrhea should have a complete examination. This includes X rays of the stomach, and large intestine. Rarely do ulcers cause diarrhea. The rectum and lower colon should be examined by a scope permitting the doctor to look at the inner lining of the bowel.

Several fresh stool specimens must be examined for any infection. The character of the stool is important to enable your doctor to determine the cause of your diarrhea.

Repeated diarrhea can be caused by such things as diabetes, an overactive thyroid and rarely by low function of the adrenal gland. When it is a change in bowel habit, it can mean a tumor or cancer of the colon. Adequate screening tests, particularly for diabetes and thyroid function, are mandatory.

Simple diarrhea is not so simple. It is a symptom and requires a careful, complete study by the doctor if the problem is to be resolved.

Rights Group Cites Misuse of Aid Funds

By GREGG HERRINGTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six civil rights groups charge Southern school districts are using emergency federal money meant to aid desegregation to buy everything from school buses to a kitchen sink.

They also say money for administration-backed Emergency School Assistance Program — ESAP-grants has been used for funding resegregation practices and for projects that question the character, morals and hygiene of black students.

The groups claim that because districts use their shares of a first-year, $75 million appropriation for general school needs instead of intended desegregation projects, the districts often increase racial tensions in recently integrated schools.

The charges came in a report issued Tuesday, a short while before the House Education and Labor Committee unanimously authorized $1.5 billion to continue the program but direct more desegregation money nationwide and not predominantly to the South.

The Nixon administration asked for the money last May to meet desegregation plans ordered by courts and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Congress enacted the original $75 million appropriation as a stopgap measure.

Rep. Roman C. Pucinski, D-Ill., chairman of the education subcommittee, said the new authorization includes measures to remedy the complaints of the six civil rights groups.

The federal Office of Education defended the use of the initial $75 million, declaring that "the support and encouragement which the swift dispatch of these funds gave to desegregating school districts greatly aided in the transition" to integration.

The civil rights groups charged the administration, and particularly the Office of Education, with bad faith in handling the first appropriation, and called the program a dismal failure.

The groups' report tells of Southern schools using the money for playground equipment, buses, microscopes, air conditioning units, television sets and in Samson County, N.C.—a kitchen sink.

In some cases, the report said, districts that received funds "did not even attempt to link the money to desegregation."

Of 722 Emergency School Assistance Program grants approved by Oct. 31, the groups said they studied 295.

The report said in 179 of the 295 monitored, "we found clear evidence of practices which should render the districts ineligible." In 87 other districts, it said, there were "indications of illegal practices," and in only 29 districts "did we find no such evidence."

Hike in Fire Insurance Rates Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Insurance Commissioner Gene Sykes said Tuesday that the state Inspection and Rating Bureau had asked the state Insurance Department for an increase in rates for fire and extended coverage.

The bureau, which represents between 85 and 90 per cent of the state's insurance companies, asked for increases in fire and extended — wind and hail — coverage for dwelling, farm and commercial users.

The over-all increases asked for farm property is 7.2 per cent for fire and a 12 per cent jump in extended coverage.

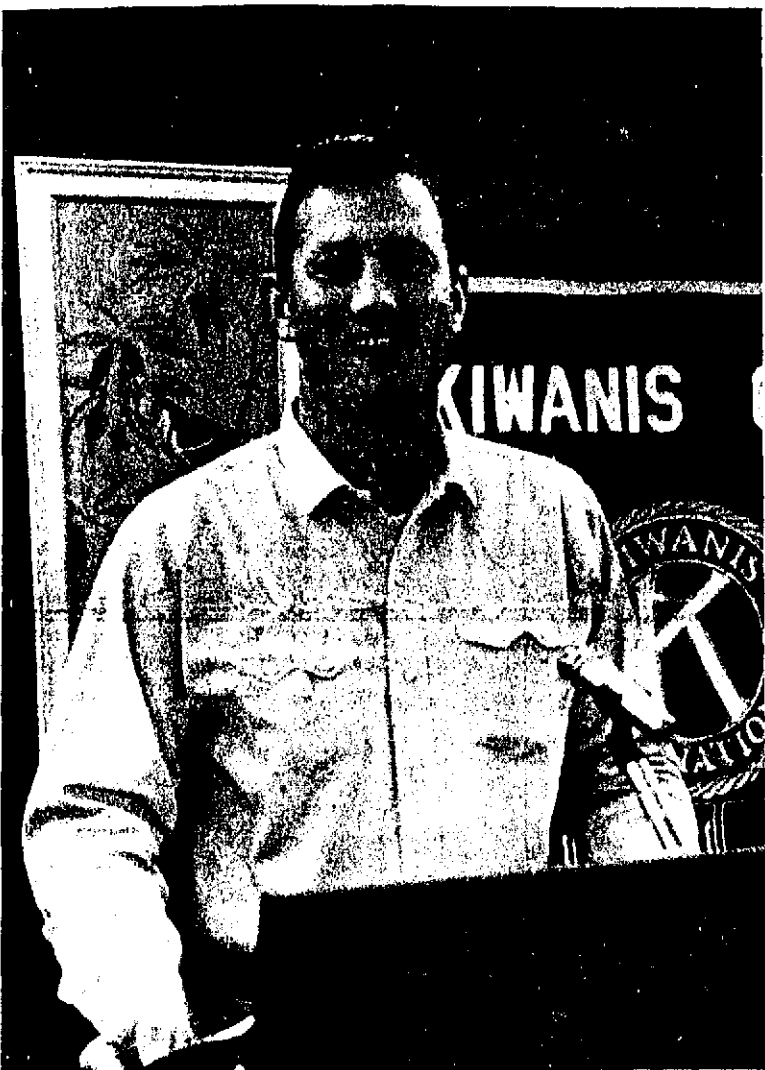

The over-all fire rate change is 16.1 per cent for commercial policy holders. The main raise provided in the plan for dwellings is a 25 per cent increase for apartment-type dwellings, giving an over-all effect of a 10 per cent jump for homeowner coverage.

The Insurance Department will hold a hearing on the proposed rate change at 10 a.m. Dec. 10.

Says Wholesale Price Report Differs From Cost of Living Trend

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — While living costs in October took the sharpest climb in six months, the wholesale price report for this month shows "a simply phenomenal figure in the other direction," a White House spokesman says.

The spokesman for the Council of Economic Advisers declined to give details of the wholesale price index before its official release today, saying only that the preliminary report for November showed "just the opposite" trend of the living costs report disclosed Tuesday.

The wholesale price report normally foreshadows future movements in the consumer price index, the government's way of figuring the cost of living.

"It shows that maybe we are ill-advised to live and die with the monthly consumer price index figures," he said.

Nevertheless, the sharp rise in consumer prices in October surprised the Nixon administration, which has been saying for months inflation is slowing down.

The White House responded by saying it will get tougher and more specific in pinning the blame for large wage-price increases, including, sources said, the recent wage agreement which ended the General Motors strike.

That will come next week, probably Monday, in an "inflation alert" prepared by the President's Productivity Commission.

Sources said the inflation alert also may zero in on the three-year, 36 per cent increase in wages for the nation's railroad workers recommended by a presidential board.

Although four rail unions have turned down this proposal, the nation's railroads said Tuesday night they accepted the board's recommendations "in their entirety."

If the inflation alert gets that specific, it means the administration is moving cautiously into a new phase of economic policy, adopting the "jawboning" technique it has up to this time rejected.

"Jawboning" is pressure by the White House to hold down what it thinks are inflationary wage and price increases.

The Labor Department reported Tuesday the October rise in living costs of six-tenths of 1 per cent increased the consumer price index to 137.40. That means it took $137.40 per week last month to maintain a family standard of living costing $100 a week in the 1957-59 base period.

Woman Shot to Death

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Lucille Balenton, 47, of Pine Bluff was shot fatally in a home here early Tuesday morning.

Police said Mrs. Balenton was shot once in the chest with a small caliber weapon.

This being Kiwanis sponsored Farm-City Week, the Agriculture and Conservation Committee of the local club headed by Kiwanian Horace Fuller arranged a program in which Mr. Troy Buck, FFA sponsor and High School instructor, was the principal speaker.

Another highlight of the meeting was the presentation by B. N. Holt, C of C, Secretary-Manager, on behalf of Hope Star the plaque which the Star awards annually to the Hempstead County Farm Family of the Year. The honor this year was earned by the R. E. "Pete" Lively family. Mrs. Lively and son, David, accepted for their family, some of whom were not able to be present.

Mr. Buck introduced Parker Powell, FFA President and Calvin Willis, Vice President whom he credited with much of the success of the FFA program this year. He also introduced Miss Sandra Stevenson, the current FFA Sweetheart, selected by the FFA membership. Mr. Buck stated that this year was the first in which a young lady received every single vote of the Senior members of FFA.

Mr. Buck has worked ten years with the Hope FFA Chapter whose present membership numbers in excess of two hundred seventy young men. They are meeting classes and working in a building designed to take care of about sixty.

Mr. Buck stated that contrary to some thinking, he felt a college education is a necessity for one entering the present day business of Agriculture.

Some few of the things being taught FFA members in addition to agricultural courses are shop work, welding, masonry, mechanics, electricity, plumbing, and carpentry in order to give the boys a background in some of the things they will encounter.

The National FFA organization lists seventeen objectives, but Mr. Buck stated, "Our one objective is to produce men, dependable, honest men who are willing to work."

One of the projects of the local FFA group has been hay cutting, baling and hauling. On borrowed money they have bought haying equipment on which they still owe, but for which they are paying with their earnings in the hay business.

Contrary to what some may think or have heard the FFA and their projects are not subsidized by anyone or any arm of government. They are on their own and receive no funds they have not worked for. On being asked how much money they made, Mr. Buck replied, "We are not making money. We are making men."

There were many farm guests at Tuesday's meeting as well as representatives of the Key Club and one special guest, Lee Ellison of El Dorado, the present Lt. Governor of Division 24 of the Mo-Ark District of Kiwanis International.

Rails Accept Deal; Strike Threat

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's rail lines have accepted a presidential board's recommendations for the costliest wage contract in industry history. But a Dec. 11 strike threat remains.

The National Railway Labor Conference Tuesday gave its approval to recommendations of a five-man emergency board appointed by President Nixon.

The proposal calls for a $1.33 hourly wage increase over three years, added to the average $3.86 hourly wage now earned by some 500,000 railway workers represented by four unions in the continuing negotiations.

That's a 36 per cent increase which Labor Department and union officials agree is the biggest ever.

But C.L. Dennis, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, said Tuesday night he still is pushing for 47 cents an hour more.

"It brings them a step closer," Dennis said of the railroads' announcement, "but for us there is no difference except we're still talking."

He said he would call a walk-out Dec. 11 if no agreement is reached by then. Dennis had rejected the recommendations the day after they were released Nov. 9.

New Fighting Reported in Middle East

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) —

Heavy fighting broke out between King Hussein's army and Palestinian guerrillas in Jordan today, the Palestinian resistance movement reported.

A statement said the fighting broke out at 7:30 a.m. and was still raging at noon. Telephone lines to Amman were out.

The statement claimed Jordanian troops "opened up on guerrilla positions in Thahrat Asfour with mortars and heavy machine guns." It did not give Thahrat Asfour's location.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Jordan's King Hussein and President Anwar Sadat of Egypt will confer in Cairo next week before Hussein begins a four-nation Western tour that starts with discussions in Washington with President Nixon.

Al Ahram, the semi-official Cairo newspaper, said today that Hussein's Egyptian visit will begin next Wednesday and that from there he will fly to Washington, London, Paris and Bonn. The newspaper said he will leave Washington before Dec. 11 because Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan is arriving in the United States that day.

Hussein will spend Christmas in London with his wife Princess Muna, who is British. She has been in Britain since fighting began between Hussein's army and Palestinian guerrillas in Jordan several months ago.

Temperatures Expected to Rise in State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures in Arkansas are expected to rise through Thursday after two days of sub-freezing readings.

A high that was centered over Eastern Oklahoma Tuesday has moved to Southwest Alabama and the movement is expected to produce southerly winds and warmer temperatures.

A chance of showers is forecast Thursday as moisture moves up from the Gulf of Mexico.

Temperatures Tuesday were on the cold side with highs around the state mostly in the 30s. Highs today should be in the low 50s northeast and mid 50s to low 60s elsewhere. Highs Thursday should be in the mid 60s to mid 70s.

Retaliation by Enemy for Raid to Bring Countermeasures

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird says he will recommend "strong countermeasures" for any North Vietnamese retaliation against captured U.S. troops following the unsuccessful U.S. commando rescue attempt.

"We are considering other actions" to free the POWs, Laird told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday and was to appear before the House Foreign Affairs Committee today. Committee members Tuesday sought unsuccessfully to pin Laird down on how the rescue attempt and weekend bombing raids of North Vietnamese territory would help bring peace in Vietnam.

Laird's testimony before the Senate panel, headed by anti-war critic J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., was followed by his scheduled appearance today at the House Foreign Affairs Committee, which also had Secretary of State William P. Rogers set as a witness.

Laird told the Senate committee Tuesday that neither the rescue mission nor last week-end's bombing raids into North Vietnam represent any change in U.S. policy.

Laird said the Nixon administration will retaliate immediately if the North Vietnamese shoot down other unarmed U.S. reconnaissance planes, use the demilitarized zone for infiltration, or shell South Vietnamese cities in violation of what he said was an understanding that accompanied the U.S. decision two years ago to halt bombing of North Vietnam. The North Vietnamese deny this was the understanding.

"I would recommend calling off the cessation of bombing should there be major violations of these understandings," he added.

Republican committee members expressed pleasure with Laird's emphasis that the weekend actions were "isolated events" rather than policy.

Found Guilty of Manslaughter

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) —

A Circuit Court jury here Tuesday found Gary Thornton, 19, of Brookland (Craighead County) guilty of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the April 12 beating death of James Newsom, 20, of near Brookland. Thornton had been charged with second-degree murder in connection with Newsom's death. Authorities said Newsom died of injuries suffered during a fight with Thornton at a Brookland service station.

The jury recommended that Thornton be fined $1,000. Judge A. S. Harrison was to formally sentence Thornton today.

500 Planes Available for Missions

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — About 500 planes are available to the U.S. command for missions over Laos, Cambodia and, if Washington chooses, North Vietnam, informed sources disclosed Wednesday. They said more planes could be called in under classified contingency plans.

This was disclosed after Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he would recommend more bombing raids on North Vietnam if there are major violations of "understandings" with Hanoi that led to the cessation of general bombing on Nov. 1, 1968.

Laird said raids against North Vietnamese anti-aircraft and missile sites last weekend were signals for Hanoi that "we will not tolerate setting aside the understandings."

Under the understandings, he said, U.S. reconnaissance flights over the North were permissible and the other side was forbidden to shell population centers in South Vietnam.

Saigon was shelled Nov. 1 for the first time in 3½ months. Less than two weeks later, an unarmed American reconnaissance plane was shot down over the North and its two occupants lost.

Hanoi contends it has the right to protect its air space and that the bombing was stopped unconditionally.

President Nixon's withdrawal program has pared the U.S. air power for Indochina combat by more than 300 planes. Many of those had been assigned missions over South Vietnam, where U.S. air strikes have been cut drastically as the South Vietnamese air force assumed a greater share of the fighting.

The U.S. Command has available fighter-bombers from two 7th Fleet carriers and bases in Thailand and South Vietnam, plus about 45 B52s, the largest combat plane in the U.S. Air Force.

The U.S. Command said today that bombing by B52s and fighter-bombers continued today against North Vietnamese supply routes in Laos and Cambodia and that reconnaissance operations were conducted over North Vietnam.

Asked if any reconnaissance planes had been fired on, a spokesman said: "I have nothing to report."

A GI was killed in a small clash Tuesday northeast of Saigon, but the command said there were no major ground actions involving American forces for a second day.

Three Vietnamese were wounded and a Vietnamese government information office in Saigon was damaged slightly by a terrorist bomb.

In the force reduction program, the U.S. Command announced that Navy Task Force 115 has turned over to the South Vietnamese navy its 44 patrol boats and is being deactivated.

3 Projects in Arkansas in Water Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Public Works Committee approved Tuesday a bill to authorize future construction of flood control, navigation and beach erosion projects, with a federal cost of about $500 million.

The projects, including three in Arkansas, will be built by Army Engineers subject to future funding by Congress, according to Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

Arkansas and Louisiana: Ouachita and Black rivers, additional land acquisition, $13,500,000.

—Posten Bayou: $1,379,000.
—Arkansas and Oklahoma: Arkansas - Red River water control part 2 $5,000,000.

REFLECTING the attitude of the young toward the hemline controversy, Princess Anne seems to favor the mini. Her aunt, Princess Margaret, has been causing a stir in London with her below-the-knee fashions.

U.S. Center in Stockholm Is Stoned

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Several hundred youths stoned the U.S. trade center Monday night and showered the entrance with paint, protesting the weekend bombing of North Vietnam. Five large show windows were smashed.

The operation was well planned and the young demonstrators well organized. They assembled in a side street, suddenly stormed the building, threw their projectiles and paint and withdrew within a few minutes.

No Evidence Time Drugs More Dangerous

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is no evidence so-called time capsule drugs are more effective than regular preparations and in some cases may be highly dangerous, Senate investigators have been told.

One possible hazard cited in testimony was described by Dr. Sidney Merlis, director of psychiatric research at New York's Central Islip State Hospital.

Merlis said a nurse at the hospital died from an adverse reaction to a powerful tranquilizer called Chlorpromazine when tiny pellets from the time capsule, or sustained action drug, were caught in the crevices of her stomach lining and could not be flushed out.

Merlis testified Monday as the subcommittee, chaired by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., opened four days of hearings into government purchasing of drugs.

Sustained action drugs generally take the form of capsules containing tiny pellets with a protective coating of varying thicknesses that wears off gradually, releasing steady and continued small dosages.

The subject of this type of drug came up during questioning of Merlis; Dr. Leo E. Hollister, a medical investigator with the Veterans Administration; and Dr. Jonathan Cole, superintendent of the Boston State Hospital.

Subcommittee counsel Ben Gordon told Hollister that in 1969 the VA bought a tranquilizer called meprobamate from a Danish firm for $1.55 per 500 tablets while at the same time it was buying the sustained release form of the drug from an American firm for $7.25 per 100 tablets.

Gordon said the sustained release form cost the VA 2,300 per cent more and he asked:

"Does this kind of buying seem sensible to you?"

Hollister said it did not because there was no evidence the sustained action form of the drug was more effective.

Cole commented that he, too, was against such drugs and said he once told a drug salesman that if he could prove a sustained action preparation was more effective than the regular dosage he would buy it.

"I haven't heard from him yet," Cole said.
